PROSPECTIVE EAGLE SCOUT DONATES TIME, ENERGY AND HYGIENE KITS TO GLENDALE FIRE DEPARTMENT CRISIS RESPONSE PROGRAM

- WHO: Jake Winn, 17, and Glendale Fire Department Crisis Response Team
- WHAT: Jake will be placing hygiene kits on the Glendale Crisis Response Vans tomorrow. Jake, a Boy Scout, used this service project to fulfill the necessary requirements to become an Eagle Scout, the highest attainable rank in the Boy Scouts of America. Jake spent countless hours planning, organizing and managing this project, which included setting up donation boxes throughout his neighborhood, church and local schools to collect the necessary supplies. Supplies collected were toothbrushes, toothpaste, razors, band aids, shampoo, bottled water and towels, necessary for the kits.
- WHERE: Glendale Fire Station 158
6261 North 83rd Avenue
Glendale, AZ
- WHEN: Tuesday, September 18, 2012
1 p.m.
- WHY: Every year, Glendale Fire's Crisis Response Team helps hundreds of people who have been displaced from their home, victims of domestic violence, or are homeless and no longer have access to basic necessities. Obtaining these items can be a challenging task, especially for our homeless community. The simple act of donating hygiene kits could help someone avoid a dental issue or health problem, and may even retain his or her self-esteem during an extremely difficult time.
