GLENDALE FIRE DEPARTMENT SELECTS NEW PUBLIC INFO OFFICER

Glendale, Ariz. — The Glendale Fire Department is pleased to announce that Firefighter Ashley Losch has been chosen as the department's new Lead Public Information Officer. Firefighter Losch has been with the department for 17 years and has served in many capacities including as a paramedic and as the Member Services Assistant, where she helps Glendale Firefighters in need.

“Ashley has three years’ worth of experience as a Public Information Officer as well as being one of our main social media contributors,” said Glendale Fire Chief Terry Garrison. “We always have important and lifesaving information to pass on to the public, and we know Ashley will play a pivotal role in continuing to share necessary information with the media and the community.”

Losch is currently in training and will be assuming full PIO duties from Captain Michael Young in January 2018. Captain Young will be returning to the field after overseeing the Public Information and Education Division for the past two years.
