Glendale Police Arrest Sexual Deviant

Glendale, Ariz. – On May 31, 2018, Glendale Police Detectives arrested 32-year-old, Anthony Walters. Anthony admitted to detectives that he had committed public sexual acts more than five times in the city of Glendale and about a dozen times in other jurisdictions. During a block watch community meeting it was brought to the attention of the Glendale Foothills Community Action Team (CAT) that there was a male performing lewd acts in his vehicle waiting for female pedestrians and joggers to pass by and see him. Once he caught their attention he would drive out of the area.

During the course of the investigation, CAT officers were able to identify the vehicle. A female undercover officer then observed Walters sitting in his vehicle masturbating as she passed him. The suspect was arrested without incident.

Walters was arrested for three charges of public sexual indecency (class 1 misdemeanor). During the arrest he confessed to his involvement in several more incidents involving female joggers and pedestrians within other jurisdictions and Glendale. Further investigation is being conducted to connect him to other possible cases. If anyone has any further information, please contact the Glendale Police Department at 623-930-3000.

His photograph has been included below.
