Glendale Police Department Joins the Conversation on Nextdoor, the Private Social Network for Neighborhoods

Partnership Will Help Enhance Citywide Communications and Facilitate Virtual Neighborhood Watch

Glendale, AZ. – The Glendale Police Department announced today that it will be joining the conversation on Nextdoor (www.nextdoor.com), the private social network for neighborhoods, to improve citywide and neighbor-to-neighbor communications.

This integration with Nextdoor will enable the Glendale Police Department to use Nextdoor to build stronger, safer communities with the help of Glendale residents. The Glendale Police Department and Nextdoor neighborhoods will be able to work together to increase safety and strengthen virtual neighborhood watch.

“Glendale is an innovative and resourceful city. Joining Nextdoor is another way to further our efforts in making Glendale an even better place to live,” said Chief Black. “Giving residents more avenues to easily and effectively connect with our department, and each other, about the things that matter most to their communities will create a safer, stronger Glendale.”

Already Nextdoor has proven to be an essential and well-adopted tool for Glendale residents. 80 neighborhoods, in the City of Glendale have started Nextdoor websites.

With Nextdoor, Glendale residents can create private neighborhood websites to share information, including neighborhood public safety issues, community events and activities, local services, and even lost pets. The police department will be able to post information, such as important news, services, programs, free events, and emergency notifications to Nextdoor websites within the city.

Nextdoor is free for residents and the police. Each Glendale neighborhood has its own private Nextdoor neighborhood website, accessible only to residents of that neighborhood. Neighborhoods establish and self-manage their own Nextdoor website and the police will not be able to access residents’ websites, contact information, or content. All members must verify that they live within the neighborhood before joining Nextdoor. Information shared on Nextdoor is password protected and cannot be accessed by Google or other search engines.

Those interested in joining their neighborhood’s Nextdoor website can visit www.nextdoor.com and enter their address. If residents have questions about their Nextdoor website, please visit help.nextdoor.com.
