Glendale Police Officer Helps Save Toddler

GLENDALE, Ariz. – On August 5, 2018, at 9PM near 6100 W Altadena Ave, Glendale patrol officers were on a call for service assisting someone in crisis. As they were inside a residence a father began banging on the front door asking for police assistance. Officer Jacob Gonzales ran to the front door where the father of a two-year-old girl was holding her in his arms lifeless asking for help, that she had drown in the family's pool.

Officer Gonzales laid the toddler on the ground and began infant CPR, both compressions and rescue breaths. An ambulance and the Glendale Fire Department were already responding to the scene for the crisis the officers were originally assisting with and were able to continue lifesaving efforts when they arrived.
