Police Seek Information Regarding Early Morning Homicide

GLENDALE, Ariz. – Detectives from the Glendale Police Department are investigating an early morning homicide and are asking for the public’s help from anyone with information about this incident.

On December 21, 2009 at approximately 5:45 a.m. Glendale police received a call of shots fired in the area of 7300 W. Donald Avenue. An adult female victim was found with a gunshot wound, she was transported to the hospital where she later died as a result of her injury. The victim is identified as Cynthia Ann Langrall a 57 year old Glendale resident. Langrall was out for her daily exercise and interacted with an unknown person or persons when she suffered a gunshot wound.

The Glendale Police Department would like to remind anyone who is out alone in the early morning hours, before sunrise or after dark, to be aware of your surroundings. Always carry a cell phone, exercise with a partner if possible or let someone know your intended route, and report anything you believe to be suspicious to the police. If you are attacked do not be afraid to yell for help and make as much of a commotion as possible.

Anyone with information regarding this incident is asked to call the Glendale Police Department, Detective Droban at 623-930-3310 or Silent Witness at 480-948-6377.
