October Green Living classes focus on landscaping and energy use

GLENDALE, Ariz. – Those concerned about the environment or simply looking to save money should mark their calendars for Oct. 16 and 30 for the next set of free classes in the Green Living series presented by the City of Glendale's Environmental Resources Department.

The first set of Green Living Classes will focus on a variety of landscaping and gardening topics. The classes will be held Saturday, Oct. 16, at Glendale Main Library, 5959 W. Brown St. The class times and topics are:

Vegetable Gardening (1 to 2:15 p.m.) – Learn how, when, and what to plant.

Composting (2:30 to 3:30 p.m.) – Learn different methods of composting and soil building.

Care of lawns (3:30 to 4:30 p.m.) – Learn how to install, water and care for winter and summer lawns.

The second set of October classes focuses on energy use. The classes will be held Saturday, Oct. 30, in the Auditorium at Glendale Main Library, 5959 W. Brown St. The class times and topics are:

How to Reduce Your Energy Use (Noon to 1:15 p.m.) – Find out what areas in your home can help you save money and the resources and rebates that are available.
